About Brittany Wrenn

Brittany Wrenn is a Chicago Realtor providing online education + guidance before, during, and after your real estate transaction.

For Brittany Wrenn, real estate is so much more than the transaction that takes place. It's about being a trusted guide to her clients through a very exciting and potentially stressful time. It's about forming strong relationships and being a part of the communities around her.

After graduating college from Illinois State University with a Bachelor's degree, Brittany remained focused on her Marketing career, stayed connected to her love of writing by freelancing for various magazines and websites, and tried her hand at a couple start-ups of her own.

It was during this time that Brittany realized the career path she thought she was supposed to be on ultimately led her to the career path she was actually meant to be on. Working for the Marketing Department at one of the largest real estate brokerages shed light on her entrepreneurial spirit which prompted her to get her real estate license. Having a background in Marketing gave Wrenn a strong foundation to build her business, build a brand, showcase properties, and aggressively market and sell a home.

In creating Beyond the Sale, Brittany Wrenn is able to offer additional education, support, and guidance to all that have an interest in real estate and building a lifestyle they'll love.
